Everybody's Talking!

Scary drop: There is a wall of rock on El Capitan, a vertical rock formation in Yosemite National Park in California (US), called the Dawn Wall. Until recently, no one has managed to complete a free-climb up this wall in one stint. However, two climbers, Kevin Jorgeson and Tommy Caldwell, succeeded in the feat of climbing the 900-meter (3,000-foot) cliff face without climbing aids, except for ropes used only to catch them if they slipped. It took the pair 19 days to reach the summit, where friends, relatives, and the media, who arrived at the top via a much easier 13-kilometer (eight-mile) hiking path, waited for them.

Woolly guests: Those who would like to dine in the company of a couple of sheep might want to check out the Nature Café in Seoul, South Korea. The owner of the eating establishment is Lee Kwang-ho, who explains that the fluffy sheep attract customers. The sheep have a pen with wooden rails, but customers can take a break from sipping tea and eating waffles to go and snuggle with them. The Café also has sheep figurines decorating the room, as well as sheep key chains for sale. People who were born in 2015, the Year of the Sheep, according to the Chinese Zodiac, are especially interested in visiting the Café.

Warm house: Toronto, Canada, has some pretty warm-hearted people who wanted to help keep an elderly couple warm for the winter. The couple, Patrice Stephen-Bourgeault and Laurent Bourgeault had a tree cut down in their yard and intended to burn the wood in their fireplace. However, the tree-removal company refused to leave the wood. After a call to the media, the couple's situation became public and many tree-removal companies and other generous people came to the rescue by donating firewood. Now, the couple won't have to worry about having a warm house for a few winters to come.

Extravagant gift: Want to buy your partner a Valentine's Day gift like no other? You might want to look into a package offered by the Shangri-La Hotel, Qaryat Al Beri - Abu Dhabi. But, don't look any further unless you have lots of money. For about $110,000 (US), lovebirds can book a wonderful weekend at this luxury hot spot. The couple get to sleep in the flower-adorned presidential suite and will be tempted by chocolates and champagne. They can kick back in the spa, enjoy a gourmet rooftop dinner and see the night sights of the city during an after-dark helicopter ride. Wow!

Did You Know...

Noted author: American author Toni Morrison won the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1993. This is significant because she was the first African American woman to receive this accolade. She has written many novels, including Beloved and Jazz.

Tunnel under: The Holland Tunnel is not in Holland. It is a U.S. traffic tunnel under the Hudson River that connects Manhattan in New York City with Jersey City in New Jersey. It opened in 1927 and is named after the first chief engineer on the project, Clifford M. Holland.

Huge loss: December 8, 1980 marked a very sad day for the music world. On that day, John Lennon of The Beatles was gunned down in New York City by Mark David Chapman.

End of the road: The Beatles' last live concert was held in San Francisco, California (US), on August 29, 1966, except for an unannounced show that took place on the rooftop of the Apple Records building in London, England, on January 30, 1969.

Country count: Different sources give different numbers, but it is thought that there are about 196 countries in the world. Some newer countries that came into being in the last 25 years include Armenia, Estonia, the Marshall Islands, and Eritrea.

On the Lighter Side

What happened when the lion ate the comedian? He felt funny.

The old accountant retired after 50 years, and in the top drawer of his desk they found a note that said: "Debits in the column toward the file cabinet. Credits in the column toward the window."

Painter: "What's your opinion of my painting?"
 Critic: "It's worthless."

Painter: "I know, but I'd like to hear it anyway."
 "The first 40 years of life give us the text; the next 30 supply the commentary." - Arthur Schopenhauer

The judge said to her dentist, "Pull my tooth, the whole tooth, and nothing but the tooth."
